

Steven M. DeGroff, CFE, CGFM

Steve is a Senior Auditor with the United States Department of Health and Human Services, Office of Inspector General, Office of Audit Services. He has been with the agency since April 2001 and works out of the Albany, New York field office. He is a Certified Fraud Examiner and Certified Government Financial Manager. Steve is responsible for supervising audits in many areas, including public health programs, family aid programs, grant and contract awards, Federal Government procurement activities, and Medicaid. He has extensive experience auditing Head Start organizations, colleges and universities, and Health Center grantees and frequently assists the United States Attorney's Office with fraud matters relating to Department of Health and Human Services programs. Steve is also a volunteer firefighter at the Shaker Road – Loudonville Fire Department, where he served as Deputy Chief, and is a part-time Fire Instructor with the New York State Office of Fire Prevention and Control. He resides in Loudonville, New York with his wife and two children.

William Johnson, CGFM, CIA

William (John) Johnson is an Audit Manager in the U.S. Department of Homeland Security, Office of Inspector General's Eastern Regional Office in Atlanta. He has over 21 years of government auditing and accounting experience. John joined the Office of Inspector General from the Defense Commissary Agency, where he was the (Acting) Chief Audit Executive. He has also worked for the US Forest Service, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and the Army and Air Force Exchange Service. Mr. Johnson has a CGFM and CIA certification. He holds a degree in finance from Georgia State University, supplemented with 24 hours of accounting coursework.

Julie Wormser

Julie Wormser is the Executive Director of The Boston Harbor Association (TBHA), a non-profit organization focused on economic development, public access and sea level rise adaptation along Boston's waterfront. Prior to joining TBHA, Julie spent fifteen years as a senior regional strategist with Environmental Defense Fund, Appalachian Mountain and The Wilderness Society. She helped secure millions of dollars in federal funding for forestlands and marine fisheries in New England. She was the lead author of Preparing for the Rising Tide, a well-received primer on climate change adaptation released by TBHA in February 2013. She received her BA in biology from Swarthmore College and her MPA from Harvard's Kennedy School of Government.

James R. Dalkin

James R. Dalkin is a Director in the Financial Management and Assurance Team with the U.S. Government Accountability Office (GAO). He serves as a member of the AICPA's Auditing Standards Board (ASB) and the International Auditing and Assurance Board (IAASB) Consultative Advisory Group (CAG). He is an observer on the COSO Advisory Board.

Jim has responsibility for directing GAO's work to develop and maintain government auditing standards (the Yellow Book); internal control standards for the federal government (the Green Book); and, GAO's work with the accounting and auditing profession. He is also responsible for the audits of the Securities Exchange Commission and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC). Prior to joining the GAO, Jim served at a global firm and audited a wide range of organizations ranging from commercial health care entities to governmental agencies.

Jim is a frequent speaker at national auditing conferences for AICPA and other professional organizations. He has also authored articles for publications including the Journal of Accountancy. He has contributed to the profession through his involvement with the AICPA Task Force on Performance Audits and chairs the International Disclosures Task Force. Jim serves as an adjunct accounting faculty at Georgetown University. He has a Master's Degree in Business Administration from the George Washington University and a Bachelor of Science in Accounting from the University of Virginia.

Sarah Kaczmarek

Sarah Kaczmarek is the Digital Communications Manager for the Government Accountability Office (GAO). She develops and manages all digital communications projects for GAO. She manages all content and public interactions on GAO's social media sites. Sarah manages the agency's process for analyzing and presenting key website and social media metrics. In addition, she plans and facilitates usability testing, and leads web improvement projects based on user feedback and data. Sarah oversees GAO's audio, video, and photography production, and hosts GAO's podcasts and live streaming video chats with the public. Prior to her work as Digital Communications Manager, Sarah was a GAO Analyst working on evaluations of various federal government programs.

Stay connected with Sarah online (SarahKaczmarek.com), on twitter (@StudioSarah), and on LinkedIn. Sarah regularly presents her work on Google Analytics for government, and posts videos, training manuals, and slides on her website.

Sheila Nair

Sheila Nair is a Public Affairs Specialist, External Affairs, with the Office of Inspector General for the Department of Health and Human Services. She specializes in audio and video production, visual content for OIG's website and media and presentation training. While at OIG, she has worked with local and national media contacts to feature OIG in stories seen on The Today Show, World News with Diane Sawyer, Good Morning America, NBC's Rock Center and segments on CNBC.

Before joining OIG in 2011, Sheila worked as a Unit Production Manager at the National Geographic Channel, for four years. She has done live event and studio production, audio/video editing and media production management for over 10 years. She has also worked in sports production and performed freelance work for the PBS affiliate in Pittsburgh. Sheila received her bachelor's degree in Media Communications from the University of Pittsburgh and a master's degree in Film and Video from American University.