OPEC vs American Shale

- ▶ 12 member group coordinates how much oil is produced to control prices and fund member countries' budgets
- ▶ Increased non-OPEC production has lowered prices
- ▶ OPEC nations are losing almost $1 billion/day
- ▶ U.S. production has risen significantly, in spite of increasing federal regulations
- ▶ Potential Keystone Pipeline

OPEC vs American Shale

- ▶ OPEC's Risky Move
 - Short-term pain for long-term gain?
 - Saudi Arabia and other Gulf states push prices down to negatively impact new American energy independence
 - Some American companies have hedged against lower prices for next year or two

- ▶ Poorer OPEC nations are already being hard hit
 - They need prices over $100 barrel to maintain their planned national budgets
 - Particularly bad = Venezuela needs $120/barrel to avoid national bankruptcy (IMF)
 - Angola, Nigeria, Ecuador, Iran, and others

OPEC Decisions: China

- ▶ Chinese Economists say
“Weakening oil prices would hamper the competitiveness of new energy. The government has to subsidize the new energy industry to support its development.”
- ▶ For China to continue to develop alternative (solar and wind) energy, the national government must spend more

Inflation Yesterday and Today

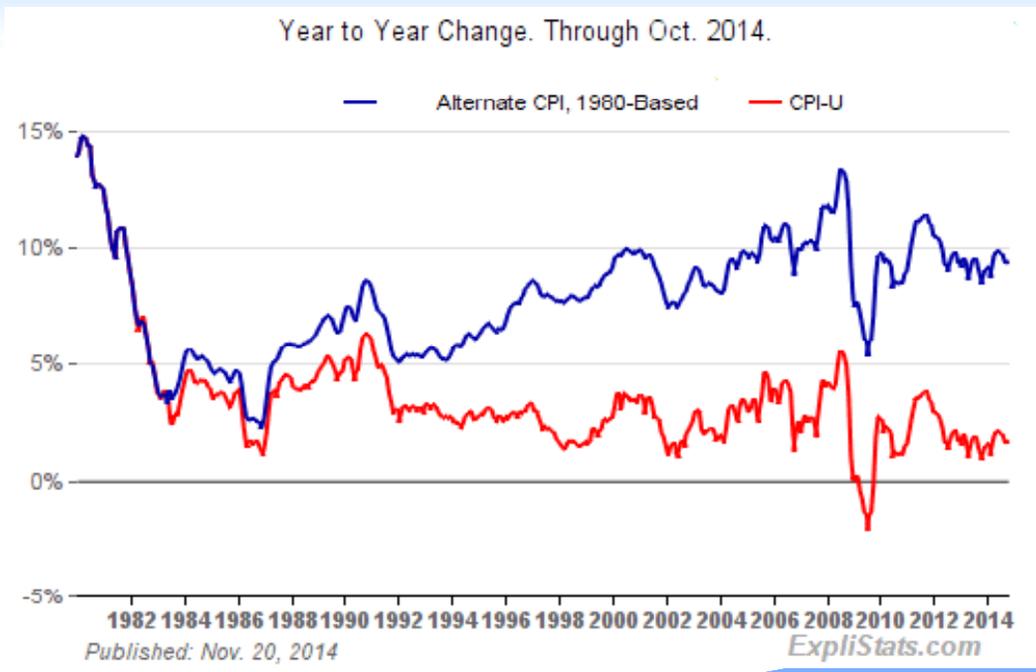

- ▶ Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) changes methodology
 - Before 1999, the BLS formula tended to overstate changes in the cost of living, so
 - BLS moved to a new model (geometric mean)/substitution

- ▶ Result=Inflation rate does look different
 - Old: Shift purchases to less expensive (less desirable) items
 - New: Shift purchases to items whose price is rising less or falling more
 - Perception of the individual

- ▶ Greater percentage of those dropping out of the workforce
- ▶ Labor underutilization = negative to economy

Role of Government & The Individual

Government has grown too big, promised too much, and waited too long to restructure

The implications of which:

- ▶ The government will ask for more while doing less
- ▶ State and local government will be adversely impacted because bad news flows downhill
- ▶ Charitable organizations will be more important in the future
- ▶ Individuals will be more responsible for their own future
